Dear Robin Fjellström,

Europe's Festival of Aviation

Now back at Pribram Airfield (LKPM) for 2010, AeroExpo Europe is making important steps for the future by adding several new exciting features to its current programme to make AeroExpo Europe's Festival of Aviation.

Book the date in your calendar now! : Pribram Airfield (LKPM), 28-30 May 2010

New features for 2010 to include:

Demo Fly in The Sky

Demo flights in available exhibited aircraft for visiting pilots as often as you want throughout the event.

Air Display Entertainment

Air Displays with special featured acts and high performance demonstrations in the afternoons. The ultimate opportunity for manufacturers to demonstrate the capability of their aircraft & for pilots to show off their skills.

Seminars, Presentations and Workshops

Seminars, presentations and workshops focusing on current topics within General Aviation

Hassle-Free Fly-In Procedures

Hassle-free procedures for all pilots flying in to the show; minimal landing fees, stay overnight on-site with under-wing camping facilities available.

More Exhibitors & Larger Exhibition Space

AeroExpo Europe 2010 will have a larger exhibition than before, with more exhibits than in the previous two events, including an additional hangar. It will showcase all aspects of aviation from ultra-light, light sport aircraft, business jets and helicopters. In addition there will be the latest pilot products and services.

Aviators Party in the Hangar

Relax and unwind . . . all visiting pilots and exhibitors are invited to our early evening parties, to be held immediately after the event (Yes, we mean for you to have fun!)
